GRADUATE FELLOWSHIPS AND SCHOLARSHIPS FOR OVERSEAS STUDY

various countries - graduate study:
The Academy for Educational Development
Public Policy and International Affairs
Dorothy Compton Fellowships - Institute for the Study of World Politics
1755 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W.
Washington, DC 20036
http://ppia.aed.org/finaid2.html

Dorothy Compton Fellowships support African American, Hispanic American, and Native American students pursuing M.A. or Ph.D. degrees in preparation for careers in international affairs. Applicants must be African American, Hispanic American, and Native American students pursuing the M.A. or Ph.D. degree. Fellowships are generally awarded to students of political science, economics, and international relations. Applicants must be U.S. citizens pursuing degrees from U.S. institutions. The purpose of the program is to promote scholarly examination of political, economic, and social issues that affect the security, well-being, and dignity of the peoples of the world.

The American Architectural Foundation
1799 New York Ave, NW
Washington, DC 20006
(202) 626-7318
www.archfoundation.org/scholarships/index.htm

The AIA/AHA Graduate Fellowship in Health Facilities Planning and Design provides two or more graduate fellowships each year with a total funding of $27,000. Applicants must either have earned and received a professional degree from an accredited school of architecture in the United States, Canada, or Mexico or be in the final year of academic work leading to such a degree. The RTKL Fellowship was established by a $25,000 contribution to The American Architectural Foundation by the architecture firm RTKL. One $2,500 fellowship is awarded to a student submitting the winning proposal outlining a foreign itinerary which is directly relevant to his or her education goals. Students must complete travel prior to graduation. Deadline is in mid-February. The Richard Morris Hunt Fellowship, co-sponsored by the AAF and the The French Heritage Society, provides opportunities for French and American architects to learn and exchange information about their respective country's historic preservation process and techniques.

David L. Boren Graduate Fellowships
NSEP/AED
1825 Connecticut Ave, NW
Washington, DC 20009
(800-498-9360) or 202-884-8285
http://nsep.aed.org/

The NSEP David L. Boren Graduate Fellowships enable U.S. graduate students to pursue specialization in area and language study or to add an important international dimension to their education. Boren Fellowship support students pursuing the study of languages, cultures, and world regions that are critical to U.S. national security but are less frequently studied by U.S. graduate students, i.e., areas of the world other than Western Europe, Canada, Australia, and New Zealand. It is hoped that recipients of Boren Fellowships will comprise an ever-growing cadre of experts whose enriched educational and professional experiences will enable them to provide leadership and direction in our national commitment to economic growth, international peace and security, and promotion of democracy abroad. NSEP welcomes applications from U.S. citizens enrolled in or applying to a graduate degree program in an accredited U.S. college or university located within the United States. Applicants must provide evidence of admission to and enrollment in a graduate degree program at an accredited U.S. college or university located within the United States, and must be willing to enter into a service agreement. Applicants design their own programs and may combine domestic language and cultural study with overseas study. All Fellowships must include study of a modern language other than English and the study of an area and culture. Boren Fellowship awards are made for a minimum of one and a maximum of six academic semesters (24 months). Fellowships provide support for overseas or domestic study, or a combination of both. The maximum award for overseas study is $10,000 per semester for up to two semesters ($20,000 total). A maximum of $12,000 is available for a program of domestic study only. Support for domestic study is limited to language or area studies which enhance a degree program. The maximum level of support for a combined overseas and domestic program is $28,000. Applicants for NSEP David L. Boren Graduate Fellowships are strongly encouraged to focus their studies on one of these geographic areas, languages, and/or fields of study. NSEP remains interested in encouraging applications for study in other countries and world regions where a compelling argument can be made that an increased understanding and appreciation represents an important contribution to U.S. national security.

Fulbright Grants and Other Grants
U.S. Student Programs Division
Institute of International Education
809 United Nations Plaza
New York, NY 10017
www.iie.org/fulbright
Approximately seven hundred grants are available to over one hundred countries. Applicants should outline study plans or research projects that can be completed in one academic year and that relate to the resources of the host country. Applicants must be U.S. citizens and have earned a Bachelor's degree or its equivalent prior to their participation in the program. Application may be made for one country only. Applicants must have proficiency in the written and spoken language of the host country.

The Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation
Cambridge Scholarship
Cambridge in America
Worldwide Plaza
309 West 49th St
New York, NY 10019-7399
(206) 709-3280
www.gatesfoundation.org/Education/Scholarships/default.htm and www.gates.scholarships.cam.ac.uk/
This scholarship enables college graduates to study as an affiliated student or to pursue taught or research courses of postgraduate study at the University of Cambridge. In establishing the scholarship, the Gates Foundation hopes to create a network of future leaders from around the world who will bring new vision and commitment to improving the life circumstances of citizens in their respective countries. It is anticipated that Gates Cambridge Scholars will become leaders in helping to address global problems related to health, equity, technology, and learning. Applicants from every country in the world except the United Kingdom are eligible to apply.

Golden Key International Honor Society
1189 Ponce de Leon Ave, NE
Atlanta, GA 30306-4624
(404)377-2400 or 800-377-2401
http://goldenkey.gsu.edu/scholar/
A variety of scholarships are available. The Web site includes a searchable database.

Hughes Pre-doctoral Fellowships in Biological Sciences
The Fellowships Office
National Research Council
2101 Constitution Ave, NW
Washington DC 20418
(202) 334-2872
Pre-doctoral Fellowships in Biological Sciences are intended for students at or near the beginning of their graduate study toward a Ph.D. or Sc. D. Degree in the designated fields (Biochemistry, Bioinformatics, Biophysics, Biostatistics, Cell biology, Developmental biology, Epidemiology, Genetics, Immunology, Mathematical and computational biology, Microbiology, Molecular Biology, Neuroscience, Pharmacology, Physiology, Structural biology, Virology). Those eligible at the time of application may be college seniors, college graduates with no or limited post-baccalaureate graduate study in the biological sciences, or first-year graduate students. Fellows may choose as their fellowship institution any U.S. or foreign institution of higher education offering advanced degrees in biomedical sciences, under the following restrictions: -fellows who are U.S. citizens or nationals may study in the United States or abroad -those who are not U.S. citizens or nationals must enroll in a doctoral degree program at a U.S. Institution.

International Federation of University Women International Fellowships
8 rue de l’Ancien-Port
Ch-1201 Geneva
Switzerland
+ (41.22)731 23 80
http://www.ifuw.org/i_fell.htm
The International Federation of University Women offers a limited number of fellowships and grants to women graduates for advanced research, study and training. The competitions are held every two years. Many of IFUW's 69 national federations and associations offer fellowships, scholarships and grants to women in their countries and to IFUW members from other parts of the world. Address information is provided for each country federation/association.

LEXIA International Scholarships *
Edmund S. Harvey
Director, Overseas Study
378 Cambridge Ave
Palo Alto, CA 94306-1544
(415) 327-9191
http://www.lexiaintl.org or www.lexiaintl.org/financial_aid.cfm
LEXIA Exchange International is a private, independent, not-for-profit organization, offering study abroad programs for university undergraduate and graduate students. Year-long, semester or summer programs are fully structured, providing all academic, logistical and living arrangements. LEXIA study programs are available in: Berlin, Budapest, Buenos Aires, Cape Town, Krakow, Prague, Venice and Shanghai. Applicants must participate in a LEXIA program in Central or Eastern Europe. Scholarships are for $1500 based on need and academic standing.

James Madison Memorial Fellowship Foundation

2000 K Street, NW, Suite 303
Washington, DC 20006
(202) 653-8700
www.jamesmadison.com/

The James Madison Fellowship offers two types of fellowships: Junior Fellowships are awarded to students who are about to complete, or have recently completed, their undergraduate course of study and plan to begin graduate work on a full-time basis. Senior Fellowships are awarded to experienced teachers who wish to undertake work for a graduate degree on a part-time basis through summer and evening classes. The fellowships are intended exclusively for graduate study leading to a master’s degree. James Madison Fellows can attend any accredited institution of higher education in the United States. Each individual entering the James Madison Fellowship Program will be expected to pursue and complete a master’s degree in one of the following (listed in order of preference): Master of Arts degree (MA) in American history or in political science (also referred to as "government and politics" or as "government"); Master of Arts in Teaching degree (MAT) concentrating on either American Constitutional history (in a history department) or American government, political institutions and political theory (in a political science department); and Master of Education degree (MED) or the Master of Arts or Master of Science in Education, with a concentration in American history or American government, political institutions, and political theory.

Robert S. McNamara Fellowships

The World Bank
1818 H Street, N.W.
Washington, DC 20433 U.S.A.
(202) 477-1234
http://www.worldbank.org/wbi/scholarships

This site addresses the programs sponsored by The World Bank, including the Robert S. McNamara Fellowships Program. Robert S. McNamara Fellowships are only applicable for developing country nationals and they are not valid for a course of study leading to an advanced degree.

The Andrew W. Mellon Fellowships in Humanistic Studies

140 East 62nd St
New York, NY 10021
(212) 838-8400
www.woodrow.org/mellon/

This fellowship in the humanities is for promising college seniors or recent graduates wishing to begin graduate study for careers in university teaching and scholarship. (Eligible fields are the traditional humanities disciplines, including history, but not the creative or performing arts. American studies, other area studies, and certain social science programs are also eligible if the emphasis in subject and method is substantially humanistic.) Candidates must be nominated by this institution and may take the fellowship at a graduate school of their choice in the United States or Canada. Eighty exceptional students are selected annually for this national scholarship.

NATO Scientific and Environmental Affairs Division

B-1110 Brussels, Belgium
+(32-2)-707-4111
http://www.nato.int/science/e/fellows.htm

The objective of the Science Fellowships program is to prepare for the long-term future by training young researchers. Science fellowships provide opportunities for scientists of NATO’s Partner countries to pursue their research work or continue their training in a NATO country, and vice-versa. There are a limited number of fellowships available in some countries for NATO-country scientists to study in another NATO country. The duration of the fellowships offered varies by type and country. The typical length of basic fellowships is one year, with renewal in certain cases; the duration of advanced fellowships ranges from three to twenty-four months; and senior fellowships, three months. Each NATO country decides on the types of fellowship and the level of financial support it offers to individual fellows, as well as deciding on which scientific fields and professions it will support. The criteria for selection and the eligibility conditions therefore vary by country, but independent committees of senior scientists judge all applications on scientific merit. Science fellows generally choose the subject of research or study. The amount of a fellowship varies by country and depends upon the length of tenure. Usually NATO Science Fellowships cover travel and living costs, but not all countries offer all types of fellowships. Applicants from NATO countries should make enquiries of or submit applications to the National Administrator in the country of which they are nationals, regardless of present residence. (For a list of National Administrators, please see the Web site.) Eligible countries: Belgium, Canada, The Czech Republic, Denmark, France, Germany,
Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Italy, Luxembourg, The Netherlands, Norway, Portugal, Spain, Turkey, The United Kingdom, the United States.

National Research Council
Office of International Affairs/DSC 2101
Constitution Ave., NW, FO 2060
Washington, DC 20418
www.europanet.org/fellowships/june/junnrc2.htm

The National Research Council (NRC) will support scholars to travel to Central Europe and the Former Soviet Union for periods of two to six weeks to conduct research related to "Governance in Post-Communist Societies." The three sub-themes are: 1. science and democratization; 2. organized crime, terrorism, and proliferation of weapons of mass destruction; 3. technology and economics. Applicants must be US citizens or permanent residents and must be affiliated with American universities or research institutions. The program is open to scholars at the post-doctoral level and to advanced graduate students if the travel and research are directly relevant to their dissertation topic. Applications will be strengthened by evidence of relevant language capabilities. Applications in which the American scholar proposes to collaborate closely with a scholar from the region will also receive a higher priority. Proposals by younger scholars which focus on Central Europe are particularly encouraged.

National Science Foundation International Opportunities for Scientists and Engineers
National Science Foundation
4201 Wilson Blvd
Arlington, VA 22230

The National Science Foundation offers Dissertation Enhancement Awards to support doctoral dissertation research overseas by graduate students enrolled in US institutions and involving close collaboration with host country institutions. They cover funds for international travel, living expenses, and other items. Proposals in a wide range of fields will be considered, including: engineering, environment, global climate change, geology, oceanography, astronomy, economics, linguistics, and anthropology. Priority is given to US citizens or permanent residents.

National Science Foundation Social, Behavioral, and Economics Sciences International Programs
National Science Foundation
4201 Wilson Blvd
Arlington, VA 22230

Organization for Tropical Studies and the Smithsonian Tropical Research Institute
A.W. Mellon Research Exploration Awards in Tropical Biology
410 Swift Ave
Durham, NC 27705
(919) 684-5774
www.stri.org/What_we_do/mellonaw.htm

Various awards available for tropical studies in Costa Rica and Panama. Proposals may be submitted for research in any sub-discipline of tropical biology. Awards are open to graduate students (pre-Ph.D.), and senior investigators (post-Ph.D.) of all nationalities and regardless of institutional affiliation. Awards will be made up to a maximum of $3,000 for graduate students and $6,000 for senior investigators.

Peterhouse College of Cambridge University Bursary
Board of Graduate Studies
4 Mill Lane
Cambridge
CB2 1RZ, England
http://www.gwu.edu/~fellows/PHbursary.html

Each year Peterhouse College of the University of Cambridge offers a Bursary to a well-qualified graduate student from overseas who is not already a resident member of the College and who wishes to read for an undergraduate degree as an affiliated student or to pursue a one- or two-year taught course as a registered graduate student. The Bursary, established by the generosity of the Friends of Peterhouse, is intended to assist towards cost of study at Cambridge, is subject to reviews of diligence and progress, and, if awarded for a course of more than one year's duration, is renewable once only to make a maximum of two years. Applicants must intend to be candidates for a degree in the University of Cambridge. Tenure of the Bursary is subject to the condition that the elected student be admitted for a place, if an Affiliated Student, at Peterhouse; if intending to read for a graduate degree, by Peterhouse and by the Board of Graduate Studies of the University of Cambridge. In awarding the Bursary, first consideration will be given to candidates who nominate Peterhouse as their College of first preference in the CIGAS applications.
Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society Fellowships
800-804-9880
http://www.phikappaphi.org/awards_fellowship.html
(To find your campus’s contact, go to the following link: www.phikappaphi.org/awards_fell_contact.html)

The Phi Kappa Phi Graduate Fellowship Program has become one of the largest and most respected scholarship programs in the country, allocating more than $460,000 annually to outstanding students for first-year graduate study. Each year, Phi Kappa Phi offers 52 Fellowships of $8,000 each and 30 Awards of Excellence of $1,500 each. Every chapter has the opportunity to submit one nominee and each person nominated receives an Active-For-Life membership in the Society. Since the Fellowship Program's inception, more than 2,000 students have benefited. The multidisciplinary nature of Phi Kappa Phi is reflected in its Fellowship and Award of Excellence recipients. Awardees represent a variety of fields including biology, chemistry, engineering, political science, mathematics and psychology.

James K. Rathmell, Jr. Memorial Scholarship
Bedding Plants Foundation
Scholarship Programs
P.O. Box 27241
Lansing, MI 48909
(517) 694-8537

Scholarship is open to upper-level undergraduate or graduate students. Students must have plans to work/study outside of the country in the field of horticulture or floriculture. Preference is given to those planning to work/study six months or longer abroad. Award is up to $2,000. Other scholarships through Bedding Plants Foundation are available for those who have an interest in bedding plants or other floral crops (horticulture or floriculture). Contact the foundation for more details.

Rotary World Peace Scholarships
The Rotary Foundation of Rotary International
One Rotary Center
1560 Sherman Ave
Evanston, IL 60201-3698
Tel: (847)866-3000
http://www.rotary.org

The Rotary Centers for International Studies in Peace and Conflict Resolution offer individuals committed to peace and cooperation the opportunity to pursue a two-year master's level degree in international studies, peace studies, and conflict resolution at one of the seven Rotary Centers. The Rotary World Peace Scholarship will support a Rotary World Peace Scholar for a two-year master's-level degree program at one of the Rotary Centers for International Studies. The University Partners include: -Duke University and the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in North Carolina, USA -International Christian University -Sciences Po in Paris, France -Universidad Del Salvador in Buenos Aires, Argentina -University of Bradford in West Yorkshire, England -University of California-Berkeley in California, USA -University of Queensland in Brisbane, Queensland, Australia -Tuition, room and board, transportation and contingency expenses will be covered by the scholarship. Eligibility: -The academic background, training and work experience required for a master's-level program at the partner universities. -Proficiency in more than one language (even if they propose to study in a country where their native language is spoken). -Excellent leadership skills -Citizenship in a country in which there is a Rotary Club. -A demonstrated commitment to peace and international understanding through their personal and community service activities and/or academic and professional achievements Application information: Applications generally need to be completed approximately 18 months in advance of the planned study period. Applications are available from the Rotary Web site at www.rotary.org or from local Rotary clubs. Club deadlines may be as early as March or as late August of the year prior to the study period.

Social Science Research Council Fellowships
810 Seventh Ave
New York, NY 10019
(212)377-2700
http://www.ssrc.org/fellowships/

The Social Science Research Council seeks to advance social science throughout the world and supports research, education and scholarly exchange on every continent. Various programs. Graduate students in the social sciences are eligible. Citizenship open.

Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation
712 Jackson Place, NW
Washington, DC 20006
202-395-4831
http://www.truman.gov/

The Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation recognizes college juniors with exceptional leadership potential who are committed to careers in government, the non-profit or advocacy sectors, education or elsewhere in the public service and provides them with financial support for graduate study, leadership training, and fellowship with other students who are committed to making a difference through public service. The Truman Scholarship is a $30,000 merit-based grant awarded to undergraduate students, who wish financial support to attend graduate or professional school in preparation for careers in government, the non-profit sector or elsewhere in public service. Eligible candidates must: attend an accredited U.S. college or university and be nominated by the institution's Truman Faculty Representative; be U.S. citizens or U.S. nationals from the Pacific Islands, complete and write a policy recommendation, be in the upper quarter of their junior class, except for residents of Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam, American Samoa or the Northern Marianas who must be in their senior class. The Foundation seeks candidates who have extensive records of public and community service, are committed to careers in government or elsewhere in public service, and have outstanding leadership potential and communication skills.