Faculty News

Dr. Charles M. Huffman named Director of Prior Learning Assessment.

Dr. Huffman was named Director of Prior Learning Assessment. Prior Learning Assessment is an educational program designed to help students demonstrate their knowledge and skills through the process of earning college credits by examination rather than traditional classroom instruction. The program is administered by the Department of Continuing Education and consists of three main parts: assessment, evaluation, and validation.

Congratulations to the following students from Dramatic Arts!

Brian Smith, a senior at GSW, was selected for participation in the Irene Kennedy Center American College Theatre Festival held at Middle Tennessee State University, the program's largest and most broadly representative contingent to the field. Eleven students were competitively selected through juried adjudicators to present at the festival in review of their work by external reviewers. The festival was held from January 30 to February 1, 2010.

The local section of the American Chemical Society will be meeting at GSW on Wednesday, February 17, 2010. The public is invited and encouraged to attend this free program.

POCl3− with O2

The Journal of Chemical Physics publishes experimental and theoretical studies of the reaction of POCl3− with O2. The article is online only for now, but will be available in the journal’s hard copy in the near future. Below is a link to the electronic version.

Congratulations to the following professors:

Richard C. Hall, Ph.D., professor of history; Nedialka Iordanova, assistant professor of political science; and Brian Smith, Ph.D., assistant professor of political science, recipients of 2009 Peavy, and Paula Martin. They received valuable professor awards in recognition of their outstanding work.

The seminar is co-sponsored by the Department of History and Political Science, Office of Continuing Education, The Georgia Southwestern Foundation, Inc. and Association for Third World Studies, Inc.