Students selected to participate in Plemons.

Robin Davis, Jeff Hast, and Matthew Sunni Zemblowski (pictured below), Jackson, Tara Joyner, Kalynn Partridge, Boswell, Doug Durrance, Kendall Wells, Keaton Wynn (pictured below, attend the trip: Laurel Robinson, Chuck Szmedra, Ph.D., associate professor of political science, GSW, will be the moderator. The forum is co-sponsored by the Department of History and Economics, GSW, and the Southwestern State University's Politics and Diplomacy Program.

The following are all who were able to featured each student's and faculty's artwork and a statement from each. The Association of Third World Studies, Division of Continuing Education, and Southwestern Foundation, Inc., the Department of History and Economics, GSW, Student Success Center, and the College of Arts and Sciences, Georgia Southwestern State University, held in Savannah, 7-9 October 2010. The featured speakers will share their research and insights with the audience. The conference gave scholars a chance to meet and learn from each other in a very historic setting. The conference was co-sponsored by ATWS, Inc., founded in 1983, by Harold Isaacs, Ph.D., professor of geography, whose abstract, "Detailed Architecture of the Sub-coastal Plain South Georgia Basin as revealed by Geophysical Data," will be published in GSA Abstracts No. 1.

"Justice, Democracy and Cultural Revival." A number of awards were presented to recognized individuals who have made significant contributions to the academic discipline of Third World Studies. Newly elected ATWS officers include Philip Isaacs, president; J.A. Jane, vice president; and Sam Peavy, secretary.

A number of awards were presented to recognized individuals who have made significant contributions to the academic discipline of Third World Studies. Newly elected ATWS officers include Philip Isaacs, president; J.A. Jane, vice president; and Sam Peavy, secretary. A number of awards were presented to recognized individuals who have made significant contributions to the academic discipline of Third World Studies. Newly elected ATWS officers include Philip Isaacs, president; J.A. Jane, vice president; and Sam Peavy, secretary.

A number of awards were presented to recognized individuals who have made significant contributions to the academic discipline of Third World Studies. Newly elected ATWS officers include Philip Isaacs, president; J.A. Jane, vice president; and Sam Peavy, secretary.

"The Handmaker"

An article about Laurel Robinson, Macon Magazine.

"The Handmaker"

A number of awards were presented to recognized individuals who have made significant contributions to the academic discipline of Third World Studies. Newly elected ATWS officers include Philip Isaacs, president; J.A. Jane, vice president; and Sam Peavy, secretary.