

Display Policy
Adopted August 2016
LibAdmin

The James E. Carter Library encourages and welcomes displays relating to and within the context of the Mission, Vision, Strategic Plan, and Curriculum of Georgia Southwestern State University. Displays that support the collection of the James E. Carter Library are encouraged.

Library personnel have responsibility for selecting topics, designing, and installing displays, including bulletin boards. The Library has the right to remove announcements posted on the public boards in the Library lobby if they are judged to be outside the criteria mentioned above.

The Library encourages community organizations and individuals to suggest, loan material, or install Library displays. All suggestions, proposals, and content must support the framework of the Mission, Vision, Strategic Plan, and Curriculum of Georgia Southwestern State University. The Library reserves the right to deny a request from outside entities for display purposes. Should a private person or organization be granted permission to install a display in the Library, the Library and/or Georgia Southwestern State University will not be held responsible for any materials damaged or lost during the display period.
