Program Outcomes

MSN Informatics, Education, and Leadership Graduates will:
1. Implement the selected advanced nurse role-leader, educator or informaticist- within health care.
2. Develop and nurture interprofessional collaborations by communicating and consulting with other health care professionals, including administrators, community leaders and regulators.
3. Evaluate the influence of ethical principles on personal and organizational decision-making.
4. Utilize nursing research for the promotion of quality nursing education, safe client-centered health care, and evidence based practice.
5. Employ critical thinking in the application of nursing and multidisciplinary theoretical frameworks to foster optimal client health outcomes.
6. Exemplify cultural competence and sensitivity to diversity in dynamic academic and health care environments.
7. Demonstrate competence in leadership roles and a commitment to ongoing professional development for the provision of quality, cost-effective client-centered health care and the advancement of nursing practice.
8. Utilize informatics to improve client outcomes and to promote the health and safety of individuals, groups and communities.

FNP Program graduates will:

1. Implement the selected advanced nurse role of practitioner within health care.
2. Develop and nurture interprofessional collaborations by communicating and consulting with other health care professionals, including physicians, other health care providers, administrators, community leaders, and regulators.
3. Evaluate the influence of ethical principles on personal and organizational decision-making.
4. Utilize nursing research for the promotion of quality nursing education, safe client-centered health care, and evidence based practice.
5. Employ critical thinking in the application of nursing and multidisciplinary theoretical frameworks to foster optimal client health outcomes.
6. Exemplify cultural competence and sensitivity to diversity in dynamic academic and health care environments.
7. Demonstrate competence in leadership roles and a commitment to ongoing professional development for the provision of quality, cost-effective, client-centered health care and the advancement of nursing practice.