Debates about the meaning of American freedom run throughout our nation’s history. This course will explore historical contestations over freedom in the United States by comparing the impact of social movements such as the African American freedom struggle, expanding Brown Power politics, Women’s Liberation, and Gay Pride assertion, among others. We will look at these movements to assess both popular ‘rights consciousness’ and political change in the 20th c.